

Rural Intelligence

Sign up for our weekly e-newsletter:

Go!

Search Archives:

Go!

[\[Advanced Search\]](#)

Inside RI.com

[\[See more Art articles\]](#)

Food

- Restaurants
- Recipes
- Spirits
- Shopping
- News

Arts

- Movies
- Music & Dance
- Art
- Theatre
- Books

Style

- House
- Garden
- Shopping
- The Wandering Eye

Parties & Openings

- Party Pictures
- Save the Date

Road Trips

- Excursions
- Lodgings
- Historic Homes, Museums & Gardens
- Train & Bus Schedules
- Gas Prices
- Weather

Community

- Passages
- News
- 911
- Get Involved

Kids

- Calendar

Blogs

- Dan's Diary
- Beth's Blog
- AgriCulture

RI Archives: Arts

View past Art articles.

View all past Arts articles.

Maggie Mailer's "The Volcano Sitters" Opens at the Ferrin Gallery

"The Fact Checker," 18" x 18"

As if it were a collection of short stories, Maggie Mailer has given her new show of paintings a title—The Volcano Sitters—that is metaphoric. As the daughter of legendary novelist Norman Mailer, she instinctively infuses her paintings with narrative and invective, and she is happy to explain in her soft-spoken way what the title means to her. "Volcano sitting is a state of being, when one is not looking at what's going on," she says, her clear blue eyes open wide. "I am asking the question, Why do we become numb?"

Mailer's paintings reflect the tensions within her and in the world around her. As a violent thunderstorm raged outside her studio, a reminder of the unknown consequences of climate change, she talked about the uneasy landscapes she's painted and the vague figures in them. "There's a subtle sign of impending disaster and the characters aren't aware or don't care," she says. She owns up to the irony of her working for the past few months in a large corner storefront in downtown Pittsfield. "You have to tune things out when you work in a storefront," says Mailer, who founded the Storefront Artist Project. "I would look out the window and see someone pushing her entire life in a shopping cart, which is the most devastating thing." Meanwhile, she would turn her back and return to her painting. "I always feel good when I have a brush in my hand," she says. "When I paint, it feels like a volcanic power. I am reaching for a fluidity—it's very exciting to reach that high. I always feel great when I am in the studio, and I feel shattered when I leave."

Mailer has been living and working for seven years in Pittsfield, where she moved shortly after 9/11. "I spent part of my childhood in

Galleries & Museums

Annandale-on-Hudson, NY

Hessel Museum of Art at Bard College

Austerlitz, NY

Millay Colony for the Arts

Chatham, NY

The Park Row Gallery

Ghent, NY

The Fields Sculpture Park Art/Omi Inc.

Great Barrington, MA

Daniel Bellow Gallery

Geoffrey Young Gallery

The Vault Gallery

Housatonic, MA

Front Street Galley and Studio

Lauren Clark Fine Art

Hudson, NY

A.D.D. Gallery

Albert Shahinian Fine Art

BCB Gallery

Carrie Haddad Gallery

Columbia County Council on the Arts

David Dew Bruner Design

Deborah Davis Fine Art

Nicole Fiacco Gallery

Great South Bay Gallery

Hudson Opera House

John Davis Gallery

Leo Fortuna Gallery

Limner Gallery

Rose Gallery

Sculpture & Nature

Time and Space Limited; TLS Warehouse

Kent, CT

The Kent Art Association

The Morrison Gallery

Ober Gallery

Lakeville, CT

Argazzi Art

Morgan Lehman Gallery

Tremaine Gallery at the Hotchkiss School

The White Gallery

Lenox, MA

The Barn Gallery at Stonover Farm

Boreas Gallery

Church Street Art Gallery

DeVries Fine Art, Inc.

Stockbridge so I felt like I was coming home," she says. She watched the attacks on the World Trade Center from her father's house in Brooklyn Heights, and The Volcano Sitters is in some ways her response. "It was hard for me to watch people in New York go on with their lives after that." Although the show at the Ferrin Gallery has been planned for a year, Mailer was still painting this week. "It's only when I am near the end that I begin to really know what I am doing," she explains, pointing to some small portraits of women with vacant gazes that she's just made on sketch paper, which she's considering adding to the show. "These ladies kind of live in the past," says Mailer, who finds that troubling. "But these little paintings are what I am most excited about right now. "Mailer strives to live and paint in the present, which can be an unsettling place. "If you are feeling joyful," she says with a sweet but brutal matter of factness, "you are not paying attention to all that is happening in a tragic way around you. The show is about the disconnect between wanting to be happy and ignoring the world."

Maggie Mailer
The Volcano Sitters

Ferrin Gallery
437 North Street, Pittsfield

Opening: June 21, 4 - 6 PM
Artist Talk: June 25, 7 PM

(0) Comments

Enjoy this post? Share it with others.

Tell-a-Friend •

Posted by Dan Shaw on 06/18/08 at 09:36 PM • Permalink

- Hoadley Gallery
- The Lenox Gallery of Fine Art
- Millbrook, NY
- Art in the Loft
- Mabbsville Gallery
- North Adams, MA
- Brill Gallery
- Eclipse Gallery
- Gallery 51
- Gallery at North Adams
- Antiques
- Kokok Gallery
- Mass MOCA
- Pine Plains, NY
- The Chisholm Gallery & Emporium
- Pittsfield, MA
- The Berkshire Museum
- Ferrin Gallery
- The Lichtenstein Center for the Arts
- The Storefront Artist Project
- Poughkeepsie, NY
- Arlington Art Gallery
- Barrett Art Center
- Frances Lehman Loeb Art Center at Vassar College
- GAS Gallery & Studio
- Mildred I. Washington Art Gallery
- Mill Street Loft
- Rhinebeck, NY
- Gazen Gallery
- Salisbury, CT
- Joie de Livres
- Stockbridge, MA
- Norman Rockwell Museum
- Tivoli, NY
- Tivoli Artists Co-op and Gallery
- Tyrringham, MA
- Naoussa Gallery
- West Stockbridge, MA
- Hoffman Pottery
- Williamstown, MA
- Sterling and Francine Clark Art Institute
- The Harrison Gallery
- Williams College Museum of Art

- Naoussa Gallery
- West Stockbridge, MA
- Hoffman Pottery
- Williamstown, MA
- Sterling and Francine Clark Art Institute
- The Harrison Gallery
- Williams College Museum of Art

FALLS VILLAGE
CHILDREN'S THEATER SUMMER CAMP
Ages 5-17
CLICK HERE FOR DETAILS

Place Your Advertisement
Here

about us * how to advertise * contact us * privacy policy * user agreement * rss feed * atom feed

Site powered by ExpressionEngine Site designed by iMadNess Web Design